THE NEW FOREST.—Birches on the Brockenhurst Road.

"THE NEW FOREST."
[Regd. Postcard 7559.
"OILETTE"
Raphael Tuck & Sons'
From "The New Forest," by Mrs. Rawnsley (A. & C. Black).

By Appointment.

TUCK'S POST CARD

CARTE POSTALE. POSTKARTE.

Birches on the Brockenhurst Road, near New Park, November. Brockenhurst is one of the chief tourist centres of the New Forest the largest tract of woodland in England, comprising 92,365 acres, which were afforested by William the Conqueror. The woods are mostly oak and beech, but on the open ground and near the New Park—a chase made in Jacobean times—birches grow, and are a golden glory in autumn.

(For Address Only.)

Printed in England. LL7095

CTPA12.9

THE NEW FOREST. — Birches on the Brockenhurst Road.

Hampshire – England.

TUCK'S POST CARD

CARTE POSTALE. POSTKARTE.

By Appointment.

Birches on the Brockenhurst Road, near New Park, November. Brockenhurst is one of the chief tourist centres of the New Forest the largest tract of woodland in England, comprising 92,365 acres, which were afforested by William the Conqueror. The woods are mostly oak and beech, but on the open ground and near the New Park—a chase made in Jacobean times—birches grow, and are a golden glory in autumn.

(For Address Only.)

"THE NEW FOREST." [Regd.] Postcard 7559.

Raphael Tuck & Sons' "OILETTE"

From "The New Forest," by Mrs. Ravensley (A. & C. Black).

Printed in England.

LL7095

CTPA12.9

THE NEW FOREST.—Birches on the Beaulieu Road.

"THE NEW FOREST."

[Regd.] Postcard 7559.

Raphael Tuck & Sons' "OILETTE"

From "THE NEW FOREST," by Mrs. Rawnsley (A. & C. Black).

By Appointment.

TUCK'S POST CARD

CARTE POSTALE. POSTKARTE

(FOR ADDRESS ONLY.)

Birches on the Brockenhurst Road, near New Park, November. Brockenhurst is one of the chief tourist centres of the New Forest, the largest tract of woodland in England, comprising 92,365 acres, which were afforested by William the Conqueror. The woods are mostly oak and beech, but on the open ground and near the New Park—a chase made in Jacobean times—birches grow, and are a golden glory in autumn.

Miss Evangeline Jolley
267 Lincoln Avenue,
Brooklyn.

Printed in England.

LL7015